Dear Colleague,

In the capacity of Adviser, IES Cadre, I am writing to all my esteemed colleagues to evoke an earnest sense of belongingness and pride in being an Indian Economic Service Officer.

2. As you are aware that many of our officers are posted to non-earmarked posts without a well-defined job assignment. Hence, the Administration in general and senior Officers in the Ministry in particular may require to be sensitised about the capabilities and expertise of IES officers. Therefore, I urge all of you to take personal interest in ensuring that the newly posted colleagues and juniors in your Ministry/Department/Organisation are given due recognition and responsibilities, which will help them in contributing fruitfully to their respective place of posting and build a strong foundation for their long career ahead.
3. We should all ensure that these officers are guided, mentored and motivated to foster a strong sense of belongingness, which would help us to grow together.
4. I strongly feel that your guidance would go a long way in motivating these officers to become coveted Officers of Government of India.

With regards

Yours sincerely

(Arun Kumar Jha)

To,
